To the hiring committee

Thank you for the opportunity to apply to the Senior Product Designer, Design Systems role on Netflix's Design Foundations team. As a customer and fan of Netflix, I have always appreciated the company's commitment to ground-breaking technology, excellent content, and meaningful customer communication.

As the lead at Typetura, design system implementation for our client EL Education resulted in the creation of reusable components that were accessible, themeable, and included motion — a massive step up in interaction for the world's largest asynchronous educational platform. These improvements allowed EL Education to reach an international audience of teachers with over 15,000 pages of content and a perfect 100 accessibility score in Google Lighthouse while providing immersive layouts that delighted customers.

Similarly, at Mariana Tek, I identified the need to create and implement a design system to increase team velocity and deliver features to our diverse customers faster. I created and leveraged the building blocks and templates in Figma for a design system that empowered us to iterate rapidly on new feature ideas, collaborate closely with development teams, and drive towards feature deployment. The result was a 3x improvement in velocity, a 2x reduction in errors, and a more stable and consistent experience for our customers that was also easily themeable and scalable for the Mariana Tek development teams. As a result of this work, the company grew from a small startup serving boutique fitness companies, to acquisition by Xplor, a multinational group with interests throughout the services space.

I truly love how design systems slingshot the excellent work of Design and Development teams into realities for customers. It's this experience and passion that I will bring to Netflix, working across the organization to understand challenges and systemize solutions for quarter after quarter of customer delight. I've seen this shared passion from designers and developers at Netflix: even from the outside, the drive to optimize, improve, and delight the audience shines through. I'm excited to work alongside these passionate individuals, to serve Netflix customers, and to go home every day knowing that I've been a part of delivering beautiful content to customers worldwide.

Please let me know any questions you might have about my work or experience, and thank you in advance for your consideration of my application.

Warm regards,
Scott Kellum
